POTOMAC FRUIT GROWERS .- The regular monthly meeting of the Potomas Fruit Growers' Association was held yesterday in Washiogico, with the president, Chalky Gillingham, in the chair, and Dr. E. P. Howland secretary. The scientific committee reported that they had pay a fine of five dollars. deferred the publication of the report of the monthly proceedings in order that the report of the first annual fair and art loan exhibition might be included therein. Dr. Howland, as delegate representing the Fruit Growers' Asso citation on the committee for the World's Fair in the committee for the distribution of the report of the first annual fair and art loan exhibition might be included therein. Dr. Howland, as delegate representing the Fruit Growers' Asso citation on the committee for the World's Fair in 1883, reported that he attended a meeting of the committee held in New York on the 8th firmed. of a proposed set of incorporation by Congress. | er Kemper.

A resolution was adopted to the effet that a specimen of fruit or flower be brought by every member of the association, and other persons, so desiring, to the meetings, and that the sale of the exhibits be discontinued. On motion of Col. Bingham, the secretary, Dr. Hawland, was authorized to draw up a circular to be sent to the different agricultural and hordealtural secieties throughout the country, urging their combined influence in making the Agricultural Department of the Government more efficient, so as to represent their interests, which they consider the paramount interest of the country. The committee appointed to take charge of the late annual fair and art loan exhit i ion reported that the exhibition had been a success, and they had received the thanks and commendation of the people; that they were out of debt, the receipts having aggregated $657, and the expenses $577, having a balance to the association of $80; that they had added nearly one hundred to their membership, and with the prestige of success and the sympathies and welwishes of the people, they looked forward with confidence to another fail, when they hoped to meet and receive the continued good will and favor of the community by the many improve ments they shall make upon their first annual exhibition. The committee most carrestly recommended that the interest in the associa tion be not allowed to slumber during the winter months, but that some system of literary entertaioment le insururated and continued until another season, thus more strongly binding together their to intenship by social and intellectual episyments. The suggestions were duly considered by the association, and on motion of Mr. Pierson a committee was appointed to take charge of the exempt hetures and cuterrainments in accordance with the surges ions of the committee.

THE MINERS, -The Cumberland News, in noticing the resumption of work at the New

Central mines says:
"The officials of the company state that the resumption at the rate demanded by the miners is temporary, to fill pressing orders. After the fact of the New Central company's resumption was known here, a numer proveiled to the effeet that the Consolidation and Borden companies would also resume work. Mr. Mayer, of the Corsolidation of many, stated to a reporter that the rumor was unitue as regarded his company. The report was received at too late an hour to admit of communication with the price for which they went on a strike some weeks ago. The company will mine coal to capacity, and Baltimore. The president of one of the other large coal companies was absent to the Cumberland region, and nething could be hearned at his office. At the headquarters of another of the leading companies the intelligenes was to the effect that their mines will not resume operations. Since the strike bitumiseus coal has become rather a fancy comor manufacturing establishment had to stop satisfactory to the consumers. The cost producing capacities of the country are two extensive to permit of a famine because of the stoppage of a sing'e region.

Political,-The Staupton Speciator says: "On last Saturday night there was a large tu n out of the people of Doe Hill and vicinity, in Highland county, to hear a speech from Hon. Alex. Hunter, of Alexandria, one of the State canvassers. Harmon Histor, esq., made short speech introducing Mr. Hanter, who was greeted with cheer. He then for an hour and three-quarters entertained and delighted his audience with a straight forward statement of the present position of the question before the people, and the advantages gained by the Mc-Culioch bill. He was listened to with the deepest attention, and his remarks frequently greeted with hearty applause. The audience were in full sympathy with the honest sentiments of the speaker, caracstly and truthfully set before them, and we feel sure that Doe Hill may be counted upon to give a good acount for the cause of honesty and the honor of the NATIONAL FAIR ASSOCIATION, - In the pubished catalogue of the National Fair we nothe the names of the following gentlemen from this city who have been appointed assistant marshale, viz : Mesars. Doubld McLeau, larer beer; K. Kemper, wine; R. J. Dangerfield, tebicco and eigars; W. F. Creighton, fowls; S. H. Lust, sheep : J. T. Henderson, cattle. These gentlemen are the marshals who wil escort the judges to their duties in tasting and examing the various subjects to which they are assigned. The fair begins in Washington city on the 28th of October and closes on the 6th of November, and will no doubt be a most attractive exhibition. The catalogue states that Colonel" H. O. Scott, it will be remembered, presented a check, purporting to have been signed by the president of a bank in Petersburg, to Mr. Henry Cook, and secured an advance thereon. The cheek subsequently turned out to be a forgery, and Scott was arrested. It has since been ascertained that he has given cheeks, deeds of gift for houses, &c .. to various parties in a very reckless way, and examination disclessed the fact that he was a menomanise. He was ordered to be committed to an asylum.

VISITING MILITARY.—The Gate City Guards, of Atlanta, Ga., passed through this city last night on their northbound tour. They were accompanied to Washington by a number of members of the Alexandria Light Infantry. Their reception in that city, is reported to have been very cordial-in fact, a perfect ovation. To day the visitors, accompanied by a delegaton of the Washington corps, visited Mount Verson. A large growd assembled at the what to see them pass, and a number of gen-tlemen made themselves known to the officers.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Correspondence of the Alexa. Gazette WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 8, 1879. Mr. Thompson, Scoretary of the Navy, in a conversation with your correspondent this morning, in reference to the proposed preliminary celebration of the centennial of the sur render of Cornwallis at Yorktown, and the request that had been received at the Navy Department for a transfer of the reported naval review from Hampton Reads to Yorktown, said that such idea as that of a naval review in Hampton Reads had never entered his bead; that he had directed the four training ships that were on the Atlantic coast to rendezvous in Hampton Roads on the 14th instant for the sole purpose of comparing notes, systematizing the course of instruction for the naval apprentices, and devising ways by which the instruc tion on all the several ships should be the same, so that the boys when transferred to active servies might be not only fully prepared to exacute any order given them, but would do it in the same manner. He said that he would be at Fortress Monroe on the 14th to consult with the commanders of these four training ships and those of such other ships as would be there, and those of such other ships as would be there, probably three or four, for the purpose named, and that then he would allow such of them as wanted to go to Yorktown on the 23d, the day of the celebration, and participate in it, to do so, as he was desirous that the affair should be as imposing as possible, and that he would at once write to Gov. Holliday and inform him to that effect. With regard to the request that the Odd Fellows in the employ of the Government in the section of country near Yorktown be given holiday on the 234 and allowed to visit Yorktown, he said it would be lowed to visit Yorktown, he said it would be

The Gate City Guards a well drilled volunteer military Company from Atlanta, Guorgia, arrived here last night and were received with quite an evation. Pennsylvania avenue in the neighborhood of the 6th street depot was brilliantly illuminated with calcium lights, and as they proceeded up the street, exerted by the Washington Light I abstry, they marched under an almost continuous arch of fire works. A tew of them paid a visit to Mr. Vergon on the steamer W. W. Corceras this morning, but the larger portion perferred remaining in the city, visiting its of jobs of interest and tasting its

TRAINING SHEPHERD Dogs .- When riding it is a common thing to meet a large flock of sheep guarded by one or two dogs, at the distance of some miles from any house or man. I often wondered how so firm a friendship had been established. The method of education consists in separating the puppy, while very young, from its mother, and in accustoming it to its future companions. A ewe is held three or four times a day for the little thing to suck; and a nest of wool is made for it in the sheep pen. At no time is it allowed to associate with other dogs, or with the children of the family. From this education it has no wish to leave the flock; and just as another dog will defend its master, man, so will those dogs defend the sheep. It is amus-ing to observe, when approaching a flock, how the dog immediately advances barking, and the sheep all close in his rear, as if round the oldest ram. These dogs are also easily taught to bring home the flock at a certain hour in the evening. Their most troublesome fault when young, is their desire to play with the sheep, for in their sport they sometimes gallop the poor things most unmercifully.

The shepherd dog comes to the house every day for some mest, and as soon as it is given him, he skulks away, as if ashamed of himself. On these occasions the house dogs are very tyrannical, and the least of them will attack and pursue the stranger. The minute, however, the latter has reached the flock, he turns round and tegins to bark, and then all the house dogs take quickly to their heels. In a similar manner a whole pack of hungry wild dogs will scarcely ever venture to attack a flock guarded by even one of these faithful shepherds. In this case the shepherd dog seems to regard the sheep as its fellow brethren, and thus gains confidence; and the wild dogs, though knowing that the sheep are not dogs, but are good to eat, yet when see-ing them in a flock, with a shepherd dog at their head, partly consent to regard them as he does.
